

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

YAROSLAV SURIS, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated,

X

Plaintiff,

Case No.:

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

COINDESK, INC.,

Defendant(s),

X

1. Plaintiff, YAROSLAV SURIS (hereinafter "Plaintiff"), on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, by their attorney, the Law Offices of Mitchell S. Segal, P.C., hereby files this Class Action Complaint against the Defendant, COINDESK, INC., (hereinafter "Defendant") and states as follows:

2. The Plaintiff brings this class action for retribution for Defendant's actions against deaf and hard of hearing individuals residing in New York and within the United States. Defendant has denied the Plaintiff, who is deaf and deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals' access to goods and services provided to non-disabled individuals through its Website www.coindesk.com (hereinafter the "Website"), and in conjunction with its physical location of offices, television, video and podcast studios, training classes and live event locations in New York and throughout the United States is a violation of Plaintiff's rights under the American with Disabilities Act ("ADA").

3. On the CoinDesk.com Website, under "About" CoinDesk.com is described as follows:

"CoinDesk is the media platform for the next generation of investors exploring how cryptocurrencies and digital assets are contributing to the evolution of the global financial system. Its mandate is to inform, educate, and connect the global investment community through news, data, events and education.

Founded in May 2013, CoinDesk reaches millions interested in digital assets and blockchain technology through its website, social media, newsletters, podcasts, video, research and live events. CoinDesk created the original price reference rate known as the Bitcoin Price Index in 2013 which is widely sourced in the media including The Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, CNBC, and many others on a daily basis.

CoinDesk hosts the annual Consensus summit each May, the most important forward thinking blockchain technology gathering of stakeholders in the global blockchain ecosystem from around the world and is the anchor event and co-host of Blockchain Week NYC.”

4. Defendant provides goods and services to the public through its Website. However, due to barriers that make it difficult for deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals to use the Website, the Plaintiff, and other deaf and hard of hearing individuals cannot understand the audio portion of videos on the Website about cryptocurrencies and digital assets that non - deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals can.

5. Defendant excludes the deaf and hard of hearing from the full and equal participation on its Website and therefore denial of its products and services offered thereby and in conjunction with its physical locations and is a violation of Plaintiff’s rights under the ADA.

6. Plaintiff, lives in Kings County, New York State and is a deaf individual. He brings this class action against the Defendant for failing to own and/or operate the Website that is fully accessible to and usable by deaf and hard-of- hearing people without the help of others in violation of Title III of the American with Disabilities Act (“ADA”); the New York Human Rights Law (“NYHRL”); the New York State Civil Rights Law; and the New York City Human Rights Law

(“NYCHRL”).

7. Deaf or hard of hearing individuals require closed captioning to understand the audio components of video content. Closed captioning displays text on videos, television programming, or DVD video programming in addition to online websites allowing deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals the same and equally accessible experience as non-deaf or hard of hearing individuals to watch videos by reading the captioned text.

8. Without closed captioning deaf and hard-of-hearing people cannot enjoy video content on the Defendant’s Website while the general public can.

9. The Defendant has videos on its Website without closed captioning, or with limited closed captioning, which are inaccessible to deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals. Without closed captioning, deaf and hard-of-hearing people cannot understand the audio portion of the videos on the Website.

10. As a result of the Defendant’s Website not being accessible to deaf and hard-of-hearing persons, Defendant violates state and federal law civil rights laws.

11. The American with Disabilities Act prevents discrimination against people with disabilities. Website barriers that prevent accessibility to deaf and hard of hearing individuals are discriminatory acts. New York State also requires access to goods, services, and facilities by making reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities.

12. The Plaintiff in this matter was on the Defendant's Website in order to watch videos on the day of May 20, 2021 and subsequent days. However, due to access barriers, the Plaintiff could not watch the content on the Website and Plaintiff and Class members will continue to be unable to watch video content on the Website unless the Defendant corrects the existing barriers on the Website. The Plaintiff and Class members intend to revisit the Website for content and information about cryptocurrencies, digital assets, trading and investments.

13. The failure of the Defendant to provide access to the millions of deaf and hard of hearing individuals in the United States violates the American with Disabilities Act ("ADA") goal of providing "full and equal enjoyment" of a public accommodation's goods, services, facilities and privileges. Places of public accommodation include but are not limited to "place[s] of exhibition and entertainment", "place[s] of recreation", "sales or rental establishment[s]" and "service establishments". 28 CFR § 36.201(a); 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7). The Defendant's Website is a "place of public accommodation" which denies equal access to its video content which is available to hearing individuals and violates the ADA.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

14. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 42 U.S.C. § 12181, for Plaintiff's claims which arise under Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12181, et seq., ("ADA"); and 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a class action as defined by 28 U.S.C § 1332(d)(1)(B), in which a member of the presumed Class is a citizen of a state other than that of the Defendant, and the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000, excluding interest and costs. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).

15. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 under the New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Administrative Code § 8-101 et seq. ("NYCHRL").

16. Venue is proper in the Eastern District of New York pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)-(c) and 1441(a).

17. The Defendant's actions occurred while the Plaintiff attempted to watch videos on Defendant's Website at his home located in the Eastern District.

18. Defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction in the Eastern District. Defendant has and is continuing to commit the acts or omissions alleged in the Eastern District of New York that caused injury and violated the Plaintiff's rights and the rights of other deaf and hard of hearing individuals.

19. This Court is empowered to issue a declaratory judgment under 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

PARTIES

20. The Plaintiff is and has been at all times a resident of Kings County, New York.

21. Plaintiff is legally deaf and is disabled as defined in the American with Disabilities Act

(“ADA”) under 42 U.S.C. § 12102(1)-(2), 28 CFR §§ 36.101 et seq., the New York State Human Rights Law, and the New York City Human Rights Law.

22. Plaintiff has been denied equal access of the facilities, goods, and services of the Defendant’s Website due to its lack of accessibility. The Plaintiff attempted to watch various videos to learn about cryptocurrencies, digital assets, trading and investments and more on www.coindesk.com including but not limited to “Tax Day: What You Need to Know for Your Crypto Investments”, “Elon Musk's Tweets Send Bitcoin Price on Roller Coaster Ride; Opportunity for the Rise of Altcoins?”, “Preakness Launches First Horse Racing NFTs”, “Vitalik Buterin Burns $6B in SHIB Tokens to Relinquish Unwanted 'Power'”, and “DeFi Dashboard Zapper Raises $15M to Create On-Platform App Store”, but was unable to do so due to their lack of closed captioning. Plaintiff and Class members cannot watch videos on the Website and have been prevented from accessing the Website although they would like to and intend to visit the Website in the future and enjoy video content as non-deaf individuals can and do. Currently they cannot. The Website is non-accessible. If the Website were accessible, the Plaintiff and the Class want to access and would access all of its content. However, this would be not productive for the Plaintiff and the Class to do as a result of the voluminous barriers to access that exist on the Website.

23. The Defendant, COINDESK, INC. is a Foreign Business Corporation organized under the laws of Delaware and is registered to do business in the State of New York and has the address at 636 Avenue of the Americas, Floor 3, New York City, New York, 10011.

24. The Defendant owns, manages, controls and maintains the Website with the domain name of www.coindesk.com (the “Website”). Defendant offers information and video on cryptocurrencies and digital assets and more, all of which is content on the Website. CoinDesk is a news site specializing in bitcoin and digital currencies. The site was founded by Shakil Khan and was subsequently acquired by Digital Currency Group. The Defendant also owns and leases physical locations of offices, television, video and blog studios, live events and locations throughout the United States all of which operate in conjunction with its Website.

25. The Defendant’s barriers to accessibility affect millions of deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals throughout the country by preventing full and equal access and enjoyment of a public accommodation’s goods, services, facilities, and privileges.

26. The Website is a place of public accommodation defined as a “place[s] of exhibition and entertainment”, “place[s] of recreation”, “sales or rental establishment[s]” and “service establishments”. 28 CFR § 36.201(a); 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7). Defendant’s offices, video studios, live event locations, internet and website businesses, and facilities with all of its various locations are also public accommodations.

27. The Plaintiff seeks injunctive and declaratory relief requiring the Defendant to correct the barriers which prevent access for deaf and hard of hearing individuals so that they can enjoy the Defendant’s Website as non-deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals are able to do.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

28. Plaintiff, for himself and on behalf of others similarly situated, seeks class action certification pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 23(a) and 23 (b)(2) of all deaf and hard of hearing individuals in the United States who have been denied equal access to goods and services of the Defendant's Website.

29. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and on behalf of all others similarly situated, seeks to certify a New York State subclass under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 23(a) and 23 (b)(2) of all deaf and hard of hearing individuals in the State of New York who have been denied equal access to goods and services of the Defendant's Website.

30. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and on behalf of all others similarly situated, seeks to certify a New York City subclass under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 23(a) and 23(b)(2) of all deaf and hard of hearing individuals in the City of New York who have been denied equal access to goods and services of the Defendant's Website.

31. The Class is so numerous, being composed of millions of deaf and hard of hearing individuals, that joinder of all members is impracticable. Additionally, there are questions of law and/or fact common to the Class and the claims of the Plaintiff are typical of the Class claims.

32. Common questions of law and fact exist amongst the Class including:

- a. Whether the Website is a "public accommodation" under the ADA and New York laws;
- b. Whether there was a violation under the ADA due to the barriers that exist on the Defendant's Website and whether the Plaintiff and the Class were denied full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations; and

- c. Whether there was a violation under New York law due to the barriers that exist on the Defendant's Website and whether the Plaintiff and the Class were denied full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations.

33. The Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of the Class as they both claim that the Defendant violated the ADA, and/or the laws of New York by failing to have its Website accessible.

34. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Class members as the Plaintiff and the Class are both deaf or hard of hearing individuals having the same claims.

35. Class certification under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2) is proper because Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds applicable to the Class as a whole, making declaratory and injunctive relief appropriate.

36. Questions of law or fact which affected Class members predominate questions which affected individual Class members and a class action will fairly and efficiently determine this litigation.

37. Counsel for the Plaintiff is experienced representing both Plaintiffs and Defendant in class actions. As such the Class will be properly represented.

38. Judicial economy requires this action be certified as a class action as it will prevent a voluminous amount of individual lawsuits filed by deaf or hard of hearing individuals throughout the United States.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

39. Defendant owns, operates, controls and maintains the Website, which provides information and video content on cryptocurrencies, digital assets, training strategies and investments and more, all of which is content on the Website. The Defendant also owns and leases physical locations of offices, television, video and blog studios, live event locations throughout New York and the United States all of which operate in conjunction with its Website.

40. The Website can be viewed by individuals located in New York State in addition to individuals from all states throughout the United States and can be reached from computers, tablets and cellphones which can access the internet.

41. In order for the deaf and hard of hearing to access video content, a website, including the Defendant's Website, must have the ability to turn voice content into readable content. Closed captioning is the process by which this is done. Without the use of closed captioning, a deaf or hard of hearing individual would have to have someone present while they are watching a video to interpret and explain the audio content for them.

42. Various recommendations and guidelines exist in order to make websites, including the Defendant's Website, compliant with the ADA. Web Content Accessibility Guidelines ("WCAG") is one of those guidelines. WCAG 2.1 Section 1.2.2 states that "Captions are provided for all prerecorded audio content in synchronized media, except when the media is a media alternative for text and is clearly labeled as such”. Additionally, Section 508, an amendment to the United States Workforce Rehabilitation Act of 1973, requires all electronic and information technology be accessible to individuals with disabilities and requires closed captioning for video content.

43. The Website’s numerous videos, which cannot be accessed by deaf and hard of hearing individuals, are in violation of the ADA and New York laws. Videos include most of the Website’s videos in addition to the videos the Plaintiff tried to access mentioned herein.

44. The Plaintiff in this matter was on the Defendant’s Website in order to watch videos on the day of May 20, 2021 in addition to subsequent days. The Plaintiff attempted to watch various videos to learn about how to invest during a crisis, cryptocurrencies and digital assets, all of which is content on the Website on www.coindesk.com including but not limited to “Tax Day: What You Need to Know for Your Crypto Investments”, “Elon Musk's Tweets Send Bitcoin Price on Roller Coaster Ride; Opportunity for the Rise of Altcoins?”, “Preakness Launches First Horse Racing NFTs”, “Vitalik Buterin Burns $6B in SHIB Tokens to Relinquish Unwanted 'Power'”, and “DeFi Dashboard Zapper Raises $15M to Create On-Platform App Store” but was unable to do so due to their lack of closed captioning. Plaintiff and Class members cannot watch videos on the Website and have been prevented from accessing the Website although they would like to and intend to visit the Website in the future and enjoy video content as non-deaf individuals can and do and learn about cryptocurrencies and digital assets and more. Plaintiff and the Class members intend to visit the Website during June, July and August, 2021 to learn about investments.

Currently they cannot. The Websites are non-accessible. If the Websites were accessible, the Plaintiff and the Class want to access and would access all of their content. However, this would be not productive for the Plaintiff and the Class to do as a result of the voluminous barriers to access that exist on the Websites. There is no closed captioning on the videos. There are additional videos on the Defendant's Websites which have no closed captioning. The Defendant's access barriers prevent the Plaintiff from enjoying the goods, services and benefits offered by the Website in conjunction with its physical locations and as such denied the Plaintiff equal access.

45. This lack of closed captioning by the Defendant on its Website prevent not only the Plaintiff but also the deaf and hard of hearing located in New York State and nationally from having equal access as non-deaf and non-hard of hearing individuals have, preventing deaf and hard of hearing individuals from enjoying the goods, services and benefits offered by the Website.

46. Defendant has intentionally failed and refused to remove the Website's barriers of access by failing to use closed captioning thereby denying equal access to the Plaintiff and the Class and discriminates against the Plaintiff and the Class in violation of the ADA and New York laws.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION ON BEHALF OF THE PLAINTIFF, THE CLASS AND THE SUBCLASS

Violation of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act

47. The Plaintiff realleges and incorporates the allegations contained in paragraphs "1" to "46" as if fully set forth herein.

48. The Plaintiff is deaf and requires closed captioning to have full and equal access to audio and audiovisual content and has an impairment that substantially limits one or more of his major life activities and is therefore an individual with a disability as defined under the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12102(2).

49. Title III of the ADA provides that "No individual shall be discriminated against on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of any place of public accommodation by any person who owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of public accommodation." 42 U.S.C. § 12182(a); 28 C.F.R. §36.201.

50. Title III of the ADA provides that "places of public accommodation" may not discriminate against people with disabilities. Defendant operates a place of public accommodation as defined by Title III of ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7) ("place of exhibition and entertainment," "place of recreation," "sales or rental establishments" and "service establishments").

51. Defendant has failed to provide closed captioning on its Website making videos contained on its Website non-accessible to deaf and hard of hearing individuals.

52. Discrimination under Title III includes the denial of an opportunity for the deaf or hard of hearing to participate in programs or services or to provide a service that is not equal to a service afforded to others. 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(i-iii).

53. Defendant discriminates against the Plaintiff on the basis of his disability by denying him an equal opportunity to participate in and benefit from Defendant's goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and/or accommodations in violation of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182 (b)(1)(A)(I), which includes the failure to provide auxiliary aids and services such as closed captioning to ensure effective communication to deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals. 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(III); 28 C.F.R. § 36.303(c); 28 C.F.R. § 36.303 (b)(1).

54. Failure to allow individuals with disabilities or a class of individuals having disabilities to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations offered to others is discrimination 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(i).

55. Failure to make modifications that are reasonable in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to individuals with disabilities is unlawful, unless implementing these modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(2)(A)(ii).

56. "A failure to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless the entity can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden" is a prohibited discriminatory practice under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §

12182(b)(2)(A)(iii).

57. The Defendant's actions or lack of actions are discriminatory acts against the Plaintiff, the Class and the Subclass as it has denied deaf and hard of hearing individuals an equal opportunity to participate and benefit from Defendant's goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and/or accommodations, in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1282(b)(1)(A). Additionally, the Defendant failed to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices and procedures when necessary to afford the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1282(b)(2)(A)(ii) and failed to take necessary steps to ensure that the Plaintiff and other deaf and hard of hearing individuals are not excluded, denied services, segregated or treated differently than others because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, including the use of closed captioning on its Website.

58. The Defendant has denied full and equal access to deaf and hard of hearing individuals to its Website by having barriers to its services and accommodations while providing access to its services and accommodations to non-deaf and hard of hearing individuals.

59. By making the necessary modification of adding closed captioning to its Website, the Defendant would not alter the nature of their goods, services, privileges, advantages or accommodations nor would it result in an undue burden to the Defendant.

60. The Defendant must be enjoined from engaging in these unlawful discriminatory practices such that the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass will no longer be discriminated against.

61. Absent injunctive relief, there is a clear and imminent risk that the Defendant's discriminatory actions will continue against the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass causing irreparable harm.

62. Plaintiff is entitled to injunctive relief in addition to attorney fees, costs and disbursements pursuant to the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12188(a)(1).

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION ON BEHALF OF THE PLAINTIFF AND THE SUBCLASS

Violation of New York State Human Rights Law

63. The Plaintiff realleges and incorporates the allegations contained in paragraphs "1" to "62" as if fully set forth herein.

64. At all times relevant to this action, the New York Human Rights Law ("NYHRL"), Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law §§ 290 et. seq. covers the actions of the Defendant.

65. Defendant qualifies as a person within the meaning of Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law § 292(1).

66. The Plaintiff, at all times relevant to this action, has a substantial impairment to a major life activity of hearing and is an individual with a disability under Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law § 292(21). The Defendant, at all relevant times to this action, owns and operates a place of accommodation, the Website, within the meaning of Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law § 292(9) along with its physical locations owns and leases physical locations of offices, television, video and blog studios, live event locations throughout New York and the United States all of which operate in conjunction with its Website.

67. Pursuant to Article 15 N.Y. Executive Law § 296(2)(a) “it shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent or employee of any place of public accommodation ... because of the ... disability of any person, directly or indirectly, to refuse, withhold from or deny to such person any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof.”

68. Discrimination includes the refusal to adopt and implement reasonable modifications in policies, practices or procedures when they are necessary to afford, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities. Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law § 296(2)(a), § 296(2)(c)(i).

69. Defendant’s actions violate Article 15 of the N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(a) by discriminating against the Plaintiff and the Class, including the Subclass by (i) owning and operating the Website that is inaccessible to deaf and hard of hearing persons; and (ii) by not removing access barriers to its Website in order to make its videos accessible to the deaf and hard of hearing when such modifications are necessary to afford facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities. This inaccessibility denies the deaf and hard-of-hearing full and equal access to the facilities, goods and services that the Defendant makes available to individuals who are not deaf or hard of hearing. Article 15 of the N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(c).

70. The Defendant's discriminatory practice also include "a refusal to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded or denied services because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless such person can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden." Article 15 of the N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(c)(ii).

71. Well established guidelines exist for making a website accessible to the deaf and hard of hearing and are easily obtainable. The guidelines have been used and followed by government and businesses in making their websites accessible to the deaf and hard of hearing, including but not limited to the use of closed captioning. Incorporating this component by Defendant in its Website would not fundamentally alter the Defendant's Website or business and would not result in an undue burden.

72. Defendant has intentionally and willfully discriminated against the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass in violation of the New York State Human Rights Law, Article 15 of the N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2) and this discrimination continues to date.

73. Absent relief, Defendant's discrimination will continue against the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass causing irreparable harm.

74. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to compensatory damages, civil penalties and fines for each and every discriminatory act in addition to reasonable attorney fees and the costs and disbursements of this action. Article 15 of the N.Y. Exe. Law §§ 297(9), 297(4)(c) et seq.

77. Persons within N.Y.S. are entitled to full and equal accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of places of public accommodations, resort or amusement, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law and applicable alike to all persons. 79. § 292 of Article 15 of the N.Y. Executive Law deems a disability a physical, mental or medical impairment resulting from anatomical, physiological, genetic or neurological conditions which prevents the exercise of a normal bodily function. As such the Plaintiff is disabled under the N.Y. Civil Rights Law.

80. Defendant discriminates against the Plaintiff and Subclass under CVR § 40 as Defendant's Website is a public accommodation that does not provide full and equal accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges to all persons and discriminates against the deaf and hard of hearing due to its lack of closed captioning for the deaf and hard of hearing.

81. Defendant intentionally and willfully failed to remove the barriers on their Website discriminating against the Plaintiff and Sub-Class preventing access in violation of CVR §40.

82. Defendant has failed to take any steps to halt and correct its discriminatory conduct and discriminates against and will continue to discriminates against the Plaintiff and the Sub-Class members.

89. “It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent or employee of any place or provider of public accommodation, because of the actual or perceived disability of any person to withhold from or deny to such person any of the accommodations required to make reasonable accommodations to a disabled individual and may not “refuse, withhold from or deny to such person any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof” N.Y.C. Admin. Code § 8-107(4)(a).

90. The willful and intentional non-removal of the Website's barriers of access for the Plaintiff, the Class and the Subclass by the Defendant discriminates against the deaf and hard of hearing by denying them full and equal access to the facilities, goods, and services that Defendant makes available to the non-deaf and hard of hearing individuals.

91. It is discriminatory for the Defendant "not to provide a reasonable accommodation to enable a person with a disability to enjoy the right or rights in question provided that the disability is known or should have been known by the covered entity." N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107(15)(a).

92. Defendant's actions will continue to prevent the Plaintiff, the Class and Subclass from accessing the Website as the remaining public can and the Plaintiff requests injunctive relief.
